Brief Biography

Taylor C. Wallace, PhD, CFS, FACN, is Principal and CEO at the Think Healthy Group, Inc. and an Adjunct Professor in the Department of Nutrition and Food Studies at George Mason University. Prior to founding the Think Healthy Group, Inc., Dr. Wallace served as the Senior Director of Science Policy and Government Relations at the National Osteoporosis Foundation (NOF) and the Senior Director of Scientific Programs at the National Bone Health Alliance (NBHA). He has extensive experience and expertise in developing and implementing comprehensive and evidence-based legislative, policy, and regulatory programs in the fields of nutrition and food science. His academic research interests are in the area of nutritional interventions to promote health and prevent the onset of chronic disease. Dr. Wallace's background includes a PhD and an MS in Food Science and Nutrition from The Ohio State University and a BS in Food Science and Technology from the University of Kentucky. Dr. Wallace manages and operates a large food and nutrition blog, www.DrTaylorWallace.com and is a co-host of the mainstream weekly radio show, Risky Behavior™, where he provides science-based nutrition, food safety, and food technology information to the general public and consumer media. Dr. Wallace has served on the Boards of Directors for the Institute of Food Technologists, Alliance for Food and Health, Feeding Tomorrow, Phi Tau Sigma, Capital Pride Alliance, and DC LGBTQ+ Community Research Advisory Board. He is a fellow of the American College of Nutrition and is the 2015 recipient of the Charles A. Regus Award, given by the American College of Nutrition for original research and innovation in the field of nutrition. Dr. Wallace is a Senior Fellow of the Center for Magnesium Education & Research, the Editor-in-chief of the Journal of Dietary Supplements, Deputy Editor-in-chief of the Journal of the American College of Nutrition, editor of six academic textbooks, author of over 50 peer-reviewed manuscripts and book chapters, and author of the popular cookbook, Sizzling Science. See why The Huffington Post called Dr. Taylor Wallace “the nation’s premier food and nutrition guru” (click here).

Education

Doctor of Philosophy

Food Science and Nutrition, March 2010

The Ohio State University, Columbus, OH USA

Master's of Science

Food Science and Nutrition, June 2007

The Ohio State University, Columbus, OH USA

Bachelor's of Science

Food Science and Technology
University of Kentucky, Lexington, KY USA

Experience

Principal and CEO (2016–Present)

Think Healthy Group, Inc.
Washington, DC USA

Think Healthy Group, Inc. seeks to create a healthier generation of consumers around the globe by harnessing, developing, and disseminating credible research that informs food policy and regulatory outcomes and public health messaging.

- Develops strategic research and/or policy priorities while aligning resources to accomplish long-term objectives. This includes both conducting and/or managing original research.
- Organizes impactful industry coalitions, scientific meetings, and technical workshops for companies and symposia at scientific/professional society meetings.
- Publishes high-quality scientific reviews (systematic, scoping, umbrella, and narrative) and original research articles (clinical, observational, and laboratory).
- Public speaker, TV personality, and brand spokesperson (Atkins, BioCell Collagen and others).

Adjunct Professor (2014–Present)

Department of Nutrition and Food Studies, George Mason University
Fairfax, VA USA

The Department of Nutrition and Food Studies integrates education, research, and outreach in preparing students to improve the health and well-being of populations through food and nutrition (<https://nutrition.gmu.edu>).

- Instructs the Intro to Nutrition (NUTR 210), Wine and Beer (NUTR 430), and Advanced Nutrition and Human Metabolism (NUTR 644) courses.
- Advises graduate students on thesis and/or practicum projects.
- Publishes new cutting-edge clinical, epidemiological and, cross-sectional research on emerging hot topic areas ranging from bone health to the microbiome.

Media Correspondent, Radio Show Host, Author and Blogger (2013–Present)

DrTaylorWallace.com
Washington, DC USA

DrTaylorWallace.com is a science-based online blog, launched in partnership with PBJ Promotions, that gives viewers and the consumer media expert advice on current issues in nutrition, food safety, and food technology (www.drtylорwallace.com).

- Provides scientific expertise and responds to local and national media inquiries.
- Regular guest commentator on NBC4 Washington and the Dr. Oz Show (40+ appearances).
- Author of mainstream cookbook, Sizzling Science™
- Co-host of mainstream radio show, Risky Behavior™
- Develops content and assists in the maintenance, search engine optimization, and layout of the Dr. Taylor Wallace website and adjoining social media sites (Twitter, Facebook, and Instagram).

Senior Director, Science Policy and Government Relations (2013–2016)

National Osteoporosis Foundation
Washington, DC USA

The National Osteoporosis Foundation (NOF) is the leading consumer and community-focused health organization dedicated to the prevention of osteoporosis and broken bones, the promotion of strong bones for life, and the reduction of human suffering through programs of public and clinician awareness, education, advocacy, and research (www.nof.org).

- Provided scientific and regulatory expertise for evaluating scientific research, and proposed government or industry actions. This included development of NOF position statements and interacting with government agencies on proposed regulatory or policy actions.
- Developed, maintained, and strengthened relationships with other advocacy groups and congressional champions to advance the mission of NOF; established and executed a long-term strategic plan with adjacent annual operating plans to advance the NOF's science-based federal legislative, policy, and regulatory agenda.
- Established new partnerships and coalitions with corporate and consumer organizations; identified and represented NOF at relevant coalition meetings and receptions.
- Staffed the Research and Advocacy Committee of the Board of Trustees, as well as other relevant scientific councils and advisory committees; prepared written position papers and briefing documents.
- Secured large educational grants and sponsorships for NOF's ongoing research and advocacy efforts.

Senior Director of Scientific Programs (2013–2016)

National Bone Health Alliance
Washington, DC USA

The National Bone Health Alliance (NBHA) is a public-private partnership, managed and operated by the NOF, launched in late 2010 that brings together the expertise and resources of partners from the nonprofit, public, and for-profit sectors to collectively promote bone health and prevent disease; improve diagnosis and treatment of bone disease; and enhance bone research, surveillance, and evaluation (www.nbha.org).

- Provided scientific leadership, content expertise, and project management leadership in support of NBHA projects such as the International Bone Turnover Marker Standardization Initiative.

- Developed and managed NBHA’s public policy, media, and public relations platforms.
- Secured and managed large industry and governmental grants for the organization’s science programs.

Senior Director, Scientific and Regulatory Affairs (2011–2013)

Council for Responsible Nutrition
Washington, DC USA

The Council for Responsible Nutrition (CRN), founded in 1973 and based in Washington, DC, is the leading 501(c)(6) trade association representing responsible dietary supplement manufacturers and ingredient suppliers (www.crnusa.org).

- Provided scientific and regulatory expertise for evaluating scientific research, and proposed government or industry actions. This included development of CRN position statements and interacting with government agencies on proposed regulatory or policy actions.
- Generated scientific manuscripts for the peer-reviewed literature and organized scientific symposia on emerging “hot topic” issues.
- Spearheaded development and execution of a multitier strategy to expand acceptance of multivitamins in nutrition policy (i.e., 2015 Dietary Guidelines for Americans). This included developing work plans and generating new research in the interest of the dietary supplement industry.
- Presented up-to-date scientific research at scientific/professional society meetings and events.

Scientific Communications Program Manager (2010–2011)

ILSI North America
Washington, DC USA

The North American Branch of the International Life Sciences Institute is a neutral forum and recognized source for identifying important key scientific emerging issues and disseminating sound science-based information for the benefit of the scientific community and general public as related to food science, nutrition, safety, and risk assessment (www.ilsina.org).

- Developed and executed a web-based communications strategy to enhance the impact and dissemination of scientific information produced by the organization’s technical committees in a consistent manner/message, which included the completion of a new website, online membership materials, and quarterly newsletter. This project also included developing a plan to continuously re-harvest and disseminate scientific information from the organization’s prior manuscripts, through high-impact newsletters, magazines, and webcasts.
- Developed an ideal product portfolio, resource analysis, and implementation plan for new communications tools, publications, and activities, including the generation of an annual editorial calendar.
- Managed operations, organized meetings, and assisted in the generation/writing of scientific peer-reviewed publications and consensus statements for the Project Committees on Gut Microbes, Flavonoids, and Energy Balance.

Graduate Research and Teaching Assistant (2006–2010)

The Ohio State University, Department of Food Science and Technology
Columbus, OH USA

Nationally recognized for generating and communicating high-impact scientific knowledge, The Ohio State University Department of Food Science and Technology is a leader in phytochemical research contributing to healthier consumer lifestyles (www.fst.osu.edu).

- Dissertation: Wallace TC. 2010. Analysis of Procyanidins and Anthocyanins in Food Products Using Chromatographic and Spectroscopic Techniques.
- Thesis: Wallace TC. 2007. Determination of Color, Pigment, and Phenolic Stability in Yogurt Systems Colored With Non-Acylated Anthocyanins From Berberis boliviana L. as Compared to Other Natural/Synthetic Colorants.
- Generated manuscripts/publications, technical presentations, and a book chapter.
- Organized the university-sponsored Functional Foods for the Health-Conscious Consumer annual conference.
- Acted as a Teaching Assistant for Food Product Development (2007–2009), Advanced Food Chemistry (2008), and Introduction to Food Processing (2009).

Marketing and Quality Assurance Intern (2004–2005)

Fazoli's Restaurant Chain
Lexington, KY USA

Undergraduate Research Assistant (2004–2005)

University of Kentucky, Department of Animal and Food Sciences
Lexington, KY USA

Food Regulations and General Intern (2003–2004)

Kentucky House of Representatives
Frankfort, KY USA

Professional Memberships

Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics (AND), American College of Nutrition (ACN), American Society for Bone and Mineral Research (ASBMR), American Society for Nutrition (ASN), Institute of Food Technologists (IFT), National Osteoporosis Foundation (NOF), and Phi Tau Sigma Honor Society (PTS)
