Research

I've received over more than 40 competitive or investigator-initiated grants, totaling $6M+, from government agencies, non-profits, and industry.

Policy Consulting

Food policy brought me to Washington, D.C., and I still consult for groups using evidence-based science to positively impact public health.

Science Advisory Board

I work with brands to help safely and efficaciously develop products that benefit both consumers and the environment.

Media

I've done 100+ national TV interviews and been on the Dr. Oz Show for 4 years. I also work with local news and write for newspapers.

Speaking

With 15+ years of speaking experience, I've presented at national and international conferences alongside scientists and Fortune 500 CEOs alike.

Podcast

Together with Dr. Sweta Chakraborty, I'm a co-host of the poplar Risky Behavior Podcast, a science-themed happy hour where no subject is off limits!
